Good morning Kathryn,

Thank you so much for the invitation to deliver a poster presentation at the upcoming CCCU conference. Unfortunately my circumstances have changed and I am transitioning to a new role this semester. Not knowing what my availability will be in October, I will regrettably decline this time.

Blessings,

Subject: Update on your CCCU Imago Dei Proposal

Hello,

Thank you for submitting a proposal for the 2025 CCCU Imago Dei conference. We received a number of submissions for a limited number of slots and could not accommodate all the requests. However, we would like to offer you the opportunity to present your work and engage with attendees during an informal poster session on the afternoon of October 9th. Should you decide to participate, please respond to this invitation by Friday, June 27th and we will provide you with further details regarding the poster session format. You are receiving this notice as the submitter of the proposal, so please notify your co-presenters (if applicable).

We hope you still plan to attend the conference, so that you can be a part of the important conversations and share your expertise. Register here to take advantage of the early bird registration rate which ends July 4, 2025.

Sincerely,
Kathryn Ryken
